ABOUT THE ARTISTS |

GAIA R. SILVAN

Gaia is a multidisciplinary Artist, from Kintyre, now based in Glasgow. They are a recent graduate from the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland in Contemporary Performance Practice with BA Honours. As a black-mixed race, neurodivergent, queer woman/person and coming from their rural upbringing, they have always been drawn to exploring the simplicities and intricacies of their/our identities. What makes us human, and draws us together? Experimenting with and creating through painting, performance and music inspired by the universe around and within them, they create art that explores their relationship to their intersectionality.

MARIOS ENTO-ENKOLO

Marios Ento-Engkolo is a Glasgow-based dance artist, who is interested in storytelling and emotional expression through movement. Marios is half Greek and Half Cameroonian and he was born and raised in Athens, Greece. His journey with movement started in 2017 and has become the primary medium of expression, connection and release ever since. Marios has worked with many artists and dance-forms ranging from Street Dance, such as Hip-Hop, Afrobeats and Dancehall, to Contemporary and Experimental movement.

SALMA FARAJI

Salma is a dance teacher, lecturer and artist. Originally from Tanzania, Salma has performed, taught and shared joy alongside inspiring choreographers and communities worldwide. Combining movement through British Sign Language, the distinct choreography articulates her story.
